ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE FEATURE

Not Overlooked in Preparing Program For Agricultural Short Course Opening Wednesday

LCCAL FAVORITES TO AID

Wide Range of Subjects Interesting to Townspeople and Farmers as Well to be Discussed

Everything points to a large attendance for the agricultural short course which opens at the Graham Annex auditorium Wednesday noon and ends with a session Thursday afternoon. The program which has been prepared indicates that it will be one of the most entertaining and instructive meetings ever held in Rushville.

The entertainment features have not been neglected. Local favorites have been included in the musical program, which will consist of vocal quartets, duet and solo numbers, as well as some instrumental music.

The three speakers—Prof. P. G. Holden, Miss Zella Wigent and R. R. Robertson—are all authorities on the subjects which they will discuss. Prof. Holden, who comes from Iowa university, has a nationwide reputation for his experimental work in corn production and his famous lecture on that subject will be worth much to the farmers of Rush county, it is believed.

Because it is desired that nothing be placed in the way of any farmer to prevent him from hearing this talk, it has been changed from Thursday afternoon to Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, on account of the joint institute at Fairview high school Thursday.

Prof. Holden discusses all farm and community subjects in the series of lectures he gives and Mr. Robertson's addresses will deal with fruit, potatoes, gardens, farm crops and soils. Miss Wigent will discuss home conveniences, poultry and girls and demonstrates canning and pressure cooking.

On account of the wide diversity of subjects, it is pointed out that the program will interest Rushville people as well as farmers and their wives. Eight reels of agricultural motion pictures will be used to illustrate many of the lectures. The corrected program is as follows:

Wednesday, February 2
1:30 p. m. Men's Session.

"Lime and Legumes" Mr. Robertson.

WILSON CONSENTS TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

President Acts on Request of President-elect Regarding Meeting of Senate March 4

TO CONFIRM APPOINTMENTS

Washington, Feb. 1.—President Wilson will call a special session of the senate March 4, to confirm the cabinet nominations, it was announced at the White House today. The session is the means of facilitating the executive start off the new administration.

A request from President-elect Harding that President Wilson call a special meeting of the new senate for March 4 was conveyed to the President at the White House today by Senator Underwood, of Alabama, the democratic leader.

Senator Underwood said he conveyed the message at the request of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader. He saw Secretary Tumulty, who later laid the request before the President.

Such a session is customary when there is a change of administrations.

Mrs. Martha Angelina McConnell, wife of J. M. McConnell, a well-known resident of Glenwood, died this morning at the family residence in that town, after being in failing health for several months. Mrs. McConnell was almost 68 years old, and death came at 7:30 this morning. The deceased is survived by the husband and two daughters, Mrs. Fred Posey of this county and Miss Minnie, who made her home with her parents. The funeral services will be held in Glenwood Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

CONFERENCE TO BLAZE NEW TRAIL

M. E. District Meeting Here Feb. 8 to 9 to Consider Music in Church First of its Kind

71 CHURCHES TO TAKE PART

DePauw University School of Music Will Have Prominent Part in Entertaining Program

The music conference which is to be held at Rushville in St. Paul's M. E. church on Feb. 8 and 9 blazes a new trail.

No such conference of churches to study church music as that which is to be held at Rushville on Feb. 8 and 9 has been held anywhere in the country before. The Western Christian Advocate says: "Dr. J. M. Walker, superintendent of the Connersville district, who lives in probably the first district parsonage, is blazing a new trail again in the onward march of the church."

The purpose of the conference will be to promote the appreciation of music as a factor in the work and worship of the church, and to make this factor more worthy and effective.

Seventy-one churches will participate in this conference. A large attendance is expected. Some from without the Connersville district have announced their purpose to attend.

Throughout the day sessions, music will be interspersed, and each night there will be a sacred concert. The New Palestine orchestra of ten pieces will give several numbers at the session Tuesday afternoon, and there will be solos and duets and organ numbers. The choir of the First Church, Connersville, of Brookville, and of First Church, Shelbyville, will be represented in the festival on Tuesday night. Mrs. Ralph J. Edwards of Shelbyville will give an opening organ recital in the Tuesday night program.

On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, Professor Van Denman Thompson, Dean of the Indiana chapter of the American Guild of Organists, and Professor of pipe organ in the DePauw University School of Music will give an illustrated address on "The Spiritual Values of the Pipe Organ." Dean McCutchan of the DePauw University School of Music will speak at each day session of the conference, and on Wednesday night, Professor Thompson and the DePauw University choir will give the program.

The subjects for the day sessions are as follows: Tuesday afternoon—"Sunday School Music"; Wednesday morning, "Music at the regular Sunday morning and Evening Services"; Wednesday afternoon, "Revival Music," followed by the address on the pipe organ at four o'clock.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 1.—Six men after forcing six men and three women employees of the Kenwood Trust and Savings Company, a southside institution, into a rear room, escaped with $30,000 here today. The hold-up was staged when the employees were removing the money from the vault after the bank opened.

WOULD PLACE RUSH IN FIFTH DISTRICT

Tentative Draft of Congressional Apportionment Bill Replaces Hancock With Johnson

THREE TOWNSHIPS ARE ADDED

Franklin, Decatur and Perry in Marion County Would Come Into Present Sixth District

The tentative draft of the bill to apportion the state in twelve congressional districts, one less than at present, places Rush county in the fifth district instead of the sixth as at present.

The fifth district, under this be composed of the same counties as are now in the sixth with the exception of Hancock and with the addition of Johnson county, of which Franklin is the county seat, and three townships in Marion county.

The counties in the sixth district are Wayne, Fayette, Union, Franklin, Henry, Hancock, Shelby and Rush. Johnson would replace Hancock under the new arrangement and Franklin, Decatur and Perry townships, Marion county, would be added.

The republicans of the district would have no complaint to make with this apportionment because it would make the proposed fifth district more strongly republican than the present sixth district. Although Johnson county is always democratic by a safe margin, Hancock county, which it replaces, is equally democratic. The three townships in Marion county is republican, which arrangement would tend to increase the republican majority in the proposed new district as compared with the present sixth district.

The congressional reapportionment in Indiana becomes necessary by the provisions of the reapportionment, based on new census figures, recently passed by the House of Representatives and now pending in the United States Senate. It is assumed that the United States Senate will accept the apportionment as it was passed by the House. Under the federal bill the House membership is held to 435, as at present. Some states, by the new census figures, gain in membership, but Indiana loses one member. While tentatively drawn, the Indiana congressional apportionment bill will not be introduced until the United States Senate has formally acted on the bill pending before it.

The subject of congressional reapportionment is causing wide discussion. Members of the present delegation in congress are keeping the wires hot on the subject, appealing to members of the Legislature from their respective districts to guard their interests in the reapportionment. Under the tentative draft, the home counties of each of the present members of Congress, with one exception, are held in the districts as comprised at present.

The exception is in the Third and Fourth districts, which are practically consolidated. This means that Representative Dunbar, now representing the Third, and Representative Benham, now representing the Fourth, will be thrown into the new Third district. Mr. Dunbar has indicated that if his home county of Floyd should be placed in a district that includes the home county of another member of the delegation that he will not make a contest for the nomination at the spring primary.

Several members of the republican state committee have been in Indianapolis to talk to leaders about the reapportionment. Each is anxious that his district be so apportioned that it will have a fair chance of remaining republican. Under the reapportionment each district will have a population of about 242,000. It is certain that the subject of reapportionment will become a red hot issue in the legislature as soon as the final draft of the bill is completed and introduced.

TWO NEW RECORDS ARE SET IN JANUARY

More Couples Seek Divorces Than Apply For Marriage Licenses—Diseases Are Few

ONLY 3 MARRIAGE LICENSES

Seven Want Divorces, Only One Contagious Disease, 13 Births, 4 Deaths—Other Statistics

January went on record as a peculiar and unusual month, as far as two offices are concerned in this city. For the first time in the history of the clerk's office, as far back as can be remembered, more divorce suits were filed than there were marriage licenses issued, and in the health office, January ranks high, with almost a clean record.

During the month which has just closed, Dan Cupid loafed on the job, and only three couples secured marriage licenses. This is a new low mark for any month in the history of the office, the previous low mark reaching seven, which was in May, 1918.

The startling thing for January was that for each couple applying for a marriage license, two more wanted a divorce. During the month seven couples asked for a separation.

The oddity about the seven divorce cases also is that five of them were applied for by the husband, only two wives sought a separation.

In the circuit court there also were 35 civil suits filed during the month, including the seven divorce actions, which shows that one fifth of the suits filed were for divorce.

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, city health officer, reports a remarkable record for January. In former years this month digs deep on contagious diseases, but the new year has set a new record. Only one case of contagion was reported, this being a case of scarlet fever.

Last January, there were 64 cases reported including measles, scarlet fever and influenza. Of the latter, the cases numbered 14.

So far this year the city of Rushville has escaped any cases of influenza, or else the attending physicians have violated the law, and have failed to report it, or diagnose the case as such.

The birth record for January runs ahead of the deaths in Rushville, 13 babies being reported, and four deaths. Of the four deaths, one was accidental, one sudden, one an infant and the fourth a child who did not live in Rushville, but who died in a local hospital.

The city fire department almost kept pace with the January record of last year, as far as runs were concerned, having answered seven alarms last month, with nine for the corresponding month last year. The fire loss for January was estimated at $400 this year, but last year the loss was $150,000, the C. G. Clark and Son's flour mill having been destroyed.

During January four persons also received prison sentences in the circuit court, two going to the reformatory at Jeffersonville, one to the penitentiary at Michigan City, and a woman getting a sentence which was suspended.

FOUR BURN TO DEATH

Newark, Ohio, Feb. 1.—Four men were burned to death and three others were seriously injured when a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad crashed into another freight train on a siding near here today. The dead and injured were members of the train crew. All were from Columbus, Ohio. The cars of the two trains were telescoped by the collision. Oil from one of the engines was splashed over the cars and they took fire.

ELECT BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Members of the United Brethren church met last night at the church, corner of Seventh and Arthur streets, and elected the board of trustees, which was a part of their quarterly conference. The following were elected: Ira Kaster, Ray Edwards, A. L. Ellingwood, Luther Wyrick and Charles Murphy. It was decided at the meeting to have the wall partitions torn down, so that the church could be better adapted for their purposes.

TO CONTINUE GERMAN BAN State Board Opposes Restoration of Language

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—The state board of education today went on record against lifting the ban on teaching the German language in Indiana high schools, when it rejected a resolution prepared by L. C. Ward, superintendent of Fort Wayne, favoring the restoration of the language.

The resolution said: Resolved: that the state board of education opposes the restoration of German language as an elective study in high schools of the state.

GUARDS OF PURSE STRINGS ON THE JOB

Attack Every Bill to Increase Taxation, Efforts Being Directed Towards Educational Tax

SENATE REJECTS ROAD BILL

Votes Against Measure to Change Methods of Paying For Improvement Under Unit Law

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—Guards of the people's purse strings sat in the state house of representatives today, attacking every provision which would increase taxation.

The first attempt was directed against Representative Fifield's bill which would boost the state tax levy for Purdue and Indiana Universities and the state normal, from 2.8 to 5 cents. This measure will come up for consideration in the house as a special order of business tomorrow and will be the first in line of attack.

Lead by representative Winesburg, of North Manchester, those leaning toward the belief that this legislature should spend no more money than absolutely necessary, will seek to cut down the five cent tax measure.

Winesburg will be assisted by Representatives Harlan and Grayson. When Fifield's bill comes up before the house as a committee of the whole, amendments will be offered to make the levy four cents instead of five cents. If this fails other amendments will be made to make the levy 41 or 44 cents.

The four and one-half levy will be the impregnable line of defense. Winesburg said today, and only the most overwhelming odds will ever force these taxation boosters to give up the fight.

A five cent levy would give these schools $1,400,000 more money each year than they are receiving, Winesburg said. If they need this amount of money as they have been pleading for, the appropriation should be made in a lump sum and handed over to them.

"Such a course is not economical because under the special levy this increased sum would go to the school year after year until the law is repealed," he added.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—Voting 34 to 23, the state senate today rejected a bill introduced by Senator Cann of Frankfort, which makes the changes in the county unit road law.

The bill was killed after the senate had adopted changes to the bill proposed by the author. As originally planned, the measure provided that the cost of road building under the county unit road law should be divided, one-half being paid by the county; one-fourth by the township; and one-fourth by the abutting property owners.

The division plan was changed in the amendment of the bill which was killed on motion of Senator Cravens.

The consideration of minor bills occupied the attention of the house of representatives. The roll call showed 97 representatives present and three absent, there being more members present than at any previous session during the assembly.

Representative Fifield's bill strengthening the criminal code to combat the criminal wave, was

ISSUES WARNING TO AUTO OWNERS

Jack Puterbaugh of Hoosier State Association Calls Attention to Fake Organizations

IS HERE FOR A FEW DAYS

Frequently Not Interested in Welfare of Members and Are Purely Private Associations

Jack Puterbaugh, representing the Hoosier State Automobile association, who is in Rushville in the interests of the association, today called attention to a statement sent out recently by the Indiana organization warning automobile owners against joining automobile associations which do not have a good purpose and which are purely private organizations.

Practically all Rush county people belonging to any automobile association are members of the Hoosier State association, but frequently an organizer for some "fly-by-night" association slips in and carries away a few membership fees because the automobile owner induced to join is not familiar with the subject of automobile associations.

The Hoosier State body is vitally interested in the welfare of automobile owners and looks after their interests all the time. To this organization belongs the credit for the advanced road legislation and automobile legislation in Indiana; and also the credit for preventing the passage of some laws which would have been highly detrimental to owners of automobiles.

The letter of warning cited by Mr. Puterbaugh is as follows:

"Associations bob up here and there, from time to time, asking dues of motorists and promising to do all sorts of wonderful things. The usual result is that the motoring public is relieved of thousands of dollars for which they get no good. Each year, because of misuse of the mails or by simply disbanding, a number of such associations disappear from public view.

"Some of these associations are now represented in Indiana. They are privately owned organizations—for profit. They collect dues under promise of all sorts of discounts and savings, and in addition save your pride by assuring you that you are joining an association that is going to do all the work thereafter done by the Hoosier Motor Club and the Hoosier State Automobile association—the Indiana branch of the American Automobile association) having been established since 1902

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR PIG CLUB CONTEST

All Boy Contestants Urged to Attend the Drawing For Their Gilts on Saturday Morning

ARE MANY APPLICATIONS

It was announced today that the Pig Club committee which was appointed a few weeks ago to take charge of conducting a pig club for young boys in Rush county, will hold a meeting Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the county agent's office for the purpose of distributing the gilts among the boys who have made application of entering the contest.

It was also announced today that the committee had secured the required number of pigs from different farmers and that everything is now ready for the contest.

The boys who have applied for pigs, and their fathers, are urged to be present at the meeting Saturday morning, so that the final arrangements can be completed, and the drawing for gilts will take place at this time.

The contest was suggested several weeks ago when the Rush County Poland China Breeder's association met in the court house, and the committee was appointed at that meeting.

FINANCES NOT WORRYING FORD

Automobile Manufacturer Believes He "is Sitting on Top of The World"

IN SECLUSION AT DEARBORN

Announced he is Far From Bankruptcy and Plant is in no Danger of Being Absorbed

(By United Press)

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 1.—Henry Ford today believes he "is sitting on top of the world".

In the seclusion of his country home at Dearborn, Ford is laying plans to meet the changes in the industrial world which he believes will be as surprising as those which startled the business world eight years ago.

Henry Ford is far from bankruptcy. The great $200,000,000 Ford Motor Company, is in no danger of being absorbed by the General Motors company, it is asserted.

There will be a most important change in the personnel of the higher executive staff of the motor company shortly. There will not be any representative of Wall Street bankers sitting on the directory, with a veto power over Ford's expenditures, it is announced, and Ford will no more have men of high power to carry on his business.

Other conclusions will be provided by a machine syndicate, which is expected to be made in the next few days. Other propositions made by similar New York banking houses through their representatives are being restrained and the representatives have been offered their hats and shown the door, it is said.

Ford is in no hurry to close the loan. If any financier does not like Ford, his business reasons, or for racial reasons, should use a "squeeze play," Ford stated.

No doubt Ford's attack upon the Jewish International Bank, aroused antagonism in the Jewish quarters and has tended to aggravate the situation. But Ford is ready to meet the antagonism, he says.

These two sides in the great financial situation have developed in the manufacturing enterprise.

Investigation covering the last few months, revealed that other people are doing most of the worrying for Henry Ford. The world's side and the wild stories have entirely passed over Ford's head. He is the most secluded man in America. The Pope in the Vatican or Woodrow Wilson in the White House never was secluded in a spot with the most impenetrable wall around them than has been Henry Ford.

FORDSON

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

The Price of the Fordson Tractor Has Been Reduced from $790.00 to $625.00 Effective Immediately

F. O. B. DETROIT

"This price has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previous uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all.

"There is no change in the present Ford car and truck prices, which are already at the lowest possible figure and now with rock bottom reached on the tractor price—

A Further Reduction in Price of Either the Car, Truck or Tractor is Out of the Question.

"In fact, the big cuts have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum production and increases may be necessary before long if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible increases."

Ask for the book, "The Fordson at Work," which will be supplied free of cost. Let us demonstrate the value of the Fordson on your farm, in your factory, lumber yard, coal yard or in any general hauling or power you have to do and let us have your order for a Fordson.

Fake Tuberculosis "Cures"

From $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 each year is wasted by victims of consumption in the United States on worthless fakes "cures" for tuberculosis, according to an estimate by the National Tuberculosis Association.

The number of so-called "cures" that have been tried out and exploited for gain or otherwise during the last ten years in the United States is well over a thousand. In co-operation with the Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and the American Medical Association, the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated organizations are waging a war upon these frauds.

The so-called "cures" are of three types. First, those exploited by well-meaning individuals usually without any desire to make money and with apparent belief in their work. In this group are such things as dog's blood, onions, lemons, certain types of exercise, etc. All of them when tested are found to be worthless. The second group includes those remedies and devices that can be bought. In this group are liquids, pills, powders, plasters, inhalers, patented stoves and numerous other devices that are sold or rented at prices usually hundreds of times in excess of their actual value. All of them are not only worthless but invariably deprive their victims of an opportunity to get well because of the delay in taking the proper measures. The third group consists of exploited so-called scientific "cures," many of which are reported in newspaper columns and otherwise and come mostly from European and foreign sources.

The National Association states that there is only one known method of curing tuberculosis and that is by the application of fresh air, good food, rest and proper medical supervision. The best place to get this kind of treatment is in a sanatorium although good results are being secured under proper medical care at home.

Clothesline Friendships

For more years than any man can remember "clothesline scraps" have been the source of endless jokes.

But what of clothesline friendships?

They are not jokes—they are healthy realities instead.

Millions of women have made lifelong friends through talking over the clothesline or across the back fence.

There is a feeling of neighborly intimacy in the act which is seldom found in the formal call.

Gossip? Of course, but no more than you find on the streets, in the home, at parties, or even on the way home from church.

Keep up the clothesline friendships. Make them an endless chain that circles the home community and binds us one to another.

There are none better or, more lasting to be had.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—In his statement of facts taken from the records, B. R. Inman, secretary-manager of the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, told the house committee in charge of the bill to abolish the public service commission that forty-eight states of the Union have such commissions that 47 of the forty-eight states have some form of commission control of their utilities, and that no state ever has done away with its commission after once establishing it as an inter-woven element in the fiber of state government.

The representative of the State Chamber throughout his address, took the position that economic problems such as those being solved for the people through the experts of the public service commission must be handled constructively and not on a basis of personal or partisan bias.

It is interesting to note the figures supplied by Mr. Inman showing the cost of similar commissions in eleven states, where such bodies have jurisdiction equivalent to that of the Indiana Public Service Commission. While Indiana's commission was provided with $100,000 in 1920 by specific appropriation, a similar commission in California cost that state $443,175; Wisconsin paid out $201,000; Ohio, $200,000; Illinois, $396,750; Massachusetts, $219,995; and Pennsylvania, $134,000. In Colorado with three commissioners, the expense was $95,230. Indiana has five commissioners, and the tasks of the commission in Indiana are infinitely more complex and heavy than in Colorado. Maryland's commission of three cost that state $119,560 in 1920 and in Missouri the sum of $147,000 was expended. In New York, which is unique, of course, one district cost $793,334 and the other $454,811.

The record as quoted by Mr. Inman shows that while the total revenues available for the commission's expenses in 1920 amounted to $206,521.67 the commission returned to the state treasury the sum of $46,381.29. This was done in spite of the fact that last year for the first time the commission was required to pay for its own printing—a very considerable item in its annual expense account—whereas formerly this was supplied by the State Printing Board.

As a matter of fact the commission has been so managed as to be able each year of the seven it has been operating, to turn back to the state treasury a part of the funds supplied to maintain it in usefulness.

The $206,521.67 available in 1920 to pay the cost of the commission was made up of $100,000 as a specific appropriation made by the legislature of 1919 and $106,521.68 realized in fees under the 1915 law. On each $100 of securities authorized to be issued the state gets 15 cents as a fee. With this revenue as collected in 1920, the commission paid a large part of its expenses, and as a result, instead of costing the state the $100,000 appropriated for the purpose, the commission actually got through the year on $53,618.71 and turned back to the treasury $46,381.29 of the $100,000 specific appropriation for that year.

It is indicated by the record as quoted by Mr. Inman at the public hearing on the house bill that the public service commission not only faces an extremely difficult task in trying to satisfy all hands while making it possible to continue public utility service unimpaired, but that the body is borne down by an immense volume of business which it has been industriously intent upon handling with the utmost efficiency and fairness.

In the four years previous to the American entry into the great war formal causes had been filed before the commission to the number of 2,981 and 2,346 had been disposed of, or an average of 587 causes disposed of per year.

Under the present commission, in the four years of the war and post war period, a total of 3,544 formal causes have been filed, and 3,412 have been disposed of, or an average per year of 933 causes handled by the present commission as compared with 587 causes per year under the first commission. The average increase per year is 248 causes handled.

As a matter of fact that commission in seven years and eight months has disposed of 9,350 causes, for its work has taken in 2,506 causes on the "adjustment docket" and 1,579 causes on the inspection docket.

Then there has been the direction of emergency period car and coal distribution, service investigations and the continuous battle at Washington for the equalization of freight rates in the North Central States on a basis of fairness to Indiana shippers and producers.

The large increase in the volume of business done at this time and in recent years merely goes to show, as Mr. Inman points out, that the usefulness of the commission grows steadily in significance and importance from year to year.

Through its power to control public utilities whose charges affect all the people either directly or indirectly, the Indiana Public Service Commission, from February to June 1918 was able to save the people of Indiana approximately $1,500,000 on the single item of telephone charges.

When the commission went to court to resist the imposition in Indiana intrastate telephone business of the increased telephone rates fixed by the postmaster general, then in control of telephone, the rate increase ordered by the postmaster general was delayed in Indiana from February to June. Though the higher rates of the federal schedule finally went into effect under the ruling of the United States Supreme Court, a substantial service had been rendered to the Public of Indiana by its public service commission in holding off the enforcement of the order.

This resistance was made by the commission in the belief that the ruling of the postmaster general was not justified by conditions in Indiana so far as intrastate telephone rates were concerned.

Still another service affecting every citizen in a direct way was the action of the public service commission in getting from the United States Railroad Administration in 1918 the enforcement of a comprehensive line of local and joint freight rates from all coal producing sections of Indiana to all Indiana points. This tariff, in effect October 5, 1918, is still effective. Not only did this action by the commission save the people hundreds of thousands of dollars, but it rescued many communities from distressful fuel shortage in an emergency.

Students of the work and record of the public service commission are going to the front with showings of similar notable services, and the array is a most interesting and impressive one.

TREELESS STATE IN 100 YEARS

Such is the Prophecy of C. C. Dean, State Forester, Because Timber Land is Diminishing

A FEW VIRGIN FORESTS

Reforestation Should Begin at Once or State Will be in Sad Plight 100 Years From Now

Columbus, O., Feb. 1—Declaring that no appreciable headway is being made for reforestation in Indiana, and that the meager timber supply left is being cut and utilized at an alarming rate, Charles C. Dean, state forester for Indiana department of conservation, this afternoon raised the question will Indiana be tree less in less than hundred years?

Dean was one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the Ohio state forestry association. "A hundred years ago Indiana possessed magnificent virgin forests the like of which were found nowhere else in the middle west states and the superiority of which gave the state nation wide prominence", he said. "Today eighty-five percent of this rich timber resource has disappeared and the remaining fifteen percent which is chiefly of mediocre quality and principally second growth, is being rapidly cut and prepared by more than a hundred saw mills for an every ready market.

"The scarcity of lumber and the exorbitant price makes us excitedly ask how long will the Indian forests last? Will Indiana be treeless in less than a hundred years? Where will we procure our timber supply in a hundred year hence?"

In asking these questions Dean explained he had in mind that it require a hundred years to grow a tree to saw log size, and that saw logs cut a hundred ears hence must be small trees growing today.

The Monday Circle enjoyed a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Miller in North Morgan street. The subject for discussion at this meeting was "Latin American Literature." Mrs. J. B. Kinsinger gave a very appropriate paper on the poets of South America. The principal poets she mentioned in her talk were Ruben Dario, the Nicaraguan; Chocano, a Peruvian; Silva from Colombia and Sombona of Colombia. The characteristics of the works of all the poets of South America, Mrs. Kinsinger stated, were pessimism and morbidness. They do not deal with the light and happy thoughts, that is characteristic of the North American poets. Dario, continued Mrs. Kinsinger, is the most widely known, being of international reputation and has a more cosmopolitan outlook on life. All the poets are still living and are regarded as young, she said.

Mrs. Cullen Sexton discussed "The Drama of Latin America" in a most appreciative manner. She told of the different types of drama and the different stages of development. In her discussion she reviewed "Three Plays from Argentina" which covered three different periods of history in Argentina and showed the development of the drama in that country.

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

GERMAN PROTEST IS USUAL BLUSTER

German Foreign Trade Increase Dis-closes Nation Can Pay Indemnities Put on by Allies

EXPORTS 2 1/2 TIMES GREATER

German Manufactured Goods Are Being Sent to All Parts of World—After Russian Trade

New York, Feb. 1.—Berlin's protest against the indemnities fixed by the allies is only the usual German bluster.

The restoration of the German foreign trade demonstrated that the German people can pay the just penalty put upon them. Without any publicity, the Germans have developed their overseas commerce since the armistice so successfully that they will compare with the high records of the foreign industrial conquests.

During the first five months last year Germany exported more than 33 billion marks worth of goods, which was two and one-half times greater than the exports of the entire year of 1919.

German manufactured goods of all kinds are being sent to every part of the world. British workers are protesting against the German revival even in Britain's own market. Holland and Scandinavian markets also have become alarmed at the influx of the German goods.

German goods such as toys, musical instruments, chemicals are being sold in large quantities into South America.

German shipyards are working at top speed turning out large vessels. Their shipping interests are now serving every part of the world with the exception of the far east and Eastern Africa. There is less unemployment today than there is in Great Britain.

In Russia pioneer German drummers are preparing for the inevitable time when the Russian people will become the world's greatest consumer of foreign made goods.

If the allies can aid in keeping the market open to Germany, she will be able to pay her indemnities without danger of bankruptcy.

REPORTS FORM BASIS FOR S.A. RELIEF WORK

Advisory Board of Each County Makes Careful Survey of Social Needs of Their Community

FINDINGS ARE CONFIDENTIAL

Indianapolis, Ind, Feb. 1.—The confidential reports, which the county advisory boards now being organized by The Salvation Army all over Indiana compile, form the working basis for the new system of relief work which The Salvation Army plans for this state in the future.

Citizens of each county, banded together, as a county advisory board make a careful survey of the social needs of their community. They do it in a quiet way and then report their confidential findings to the state headquarters at Indianapolis.

The board forms the agency through which the remedial institutions and facilities of the Salvation Army reach delinquency, dependency and defectiveness.

Reports to the office of Brigadier George F. Casler, the Indiana Division Commander at Indianapolis, show the steady formation of county advisory boards in each section of the state.

Rheumatism

Rheumatism is an acute or chronic incoordination of nerves, muscles, articulations, membranes or bones, characterized subjectively by pain and objectively by local fever, swelling, stiffness and sometimes deformity. Of all the chronic disorders to which man is subject, there is perhaps none more common than that of rheumatism in its various forms, and none which so handicaps the activities of man and limits his possibilities.

The Chiropractor is, specially trained to know what parts of the spine may be involved in cases of rheumatism. He is specially trained to locate those abnormal conditions in the spine and to correct them. It makes no difference whether the rheumatism is in one form or another, whether it is articular, muscular, acute or chronic, the cause traced to its last analysis lies in the inability of the nervous system to properly function because of impingements on the nerve fibres. The only logical way to correct the condition is to adjust the vertebrae so that the several organs of the body function normally.

LADIES' READY TO WEAR

"The Store that Does Things"

AMUSEMENTS

Required 300 "Extras"

Rounding up three hundred "extras" with an intimate acquaintance with high hat and frock coat was one of the tasks confronting the director when he screened the new Cosmopolitan production, "The Miracle of Love", which is coming to the Princess Theatre for the last showing today. Scenes on Piccadilly and in the English House of Lords are features of the picture, and to secure the true atmosphere the director put up a notice that only native-born Britons need apply for the jobs of sitting and walking around. So it was that scores of monocled gentlemen with lemon colored gloves and richly flavored British accents occupied the studio for several days until several of the players and assistants declared that they were acquiring a London twang in their speech.

"The Miracle of Love" is adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's popular story and is interpreted by a notable cast, including Lucy Cotton and Wyndham Standing. Robert Z. Leonard was the director.

"Simple Souls" Pleases

The charm of Blanche Sweet's personality literally floods every scene of "Simple Souls", the Jesse D. Hampton production which opened at the Mystic Theatre yesterday. It is based on the popular novel by John Hastings Turner.

Miss Sweet is cast in a role which requires a full complement of histrionic abilities. From the sweet simplicity of an unsophisticated girl to the quick wrath and fear of a woman scorned, she is admirable. Don't miss this romance!

Briefly, the story is that of a poor, discouraged shop girl who dreams of happiness but sees no chance of getting it. Sitting disconsolate in a park, she arouses the sympathy of a Duke, who makes a chance acquaintance and later regularly sends her a small allowance to purchase books. This brings her into disrepute with her mother. The Duke learns of the situation and marries her, but snobbish relatives endeavor to break up the couple. The girl weathers a series of difficult situations and wins out.

Supporting Miss Sweet are Chas. Meredith, Herbert Standing, Kate Lester, Herbert Grimwood, Aaron Edwards, Oliver Brobst, Frederick Huntley and Mayme Kelso. Robert Thornby gave this photoplay his usual splendid direction.
